This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

EXPLANATIONS AND INSTRUCTIONS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, April 11, 1910.

EXPLANATIONS.

Since the previous edition of the General Customs Catalogue of blank forms was published, April 23, 1902, changes therein have been announced by Department Circulars Nos. 80 of 1903, 85 of 1905, 21 of 1907, and 50 of 1908.

The following are some of the principal differences between the 1902 Catalogue and the present (1910) Catalogue, viz:

1. The forms have been rearranged after the general order and classification of the New York Catalogue.

2. The numbering of the forms begins at 3001 in order to avoid confusion with the Treasury Department's previous customs catalogue numbers and with the Department of Commerce and Labor's present customs catalogue numbers.

3. But one series of numbers for all customs blank forms under the Treasury Department will hereafter be used, the even numbers being assigned to the New York Customs Catalogue (edition of 1908) and the odd numbers to the General Customs Catalogue, the latter catalogue being for forms used at ports other than New York.

4. Fractions in connection with catalogue numbers have been discontinued, and letters are used only when there are two or more sizes of the same form.

5. To allow for the expansion of the Catalogue and of the index, more than one-half as many unused numbers and lines as there are used numbers and lines have been left between subgroups and after each general group.

6. The catalogue gives the new number, the old number (for the purpose of identification), and the title. The catalogue is followed by a list of the old numbers in numerical or progressive order, with the new numbers printed opposite in each case, so that if either number is known the other can be readily ascertained.

7. The method adopted for indexing the titles has been to use the subject or noun (rarely an adjective) as the key word, followed by a subalphabetical arrangement in connection with each letter.

INSTRUCTIONS.

1. The forms enumerated in the accompanying catalogue will hereafter be used in the transaction of the customs business at ports other than the port of New York. (Section 2646, Revised Statutes of the United States.)

2. Requisitions for books and blanks should be made as follows:

Monthly (1st of each month): Collectors of customs at naval-office ports.

Quarterly (the 1st of January, April, July, and October): Naval officers, surveyors, and appraisers at naval-office ports.

Washington, D. C.

Annually (March 1): All chief officers of the customs not included in the above semiannual list.

3. Requisitions for books and blanks should be made upon Catalogue No. 3039 and addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury.

4. Only the forms actually needed, and the probable quantity required during the period covered by the requisition, should be requested.

5. Supplementary requisitions should be avoided as far as possible, but when made should contain an explanatory note. Such requisitions should never be made, however, until a careful inventory of the entire stock on hand has been taken, and should include all forms that may be needed before the time for making the next regular requisition.

6. Special printing should not be requested except when absolutely necessary. The aim should be to lessen rather than increase the number of blank forms; to simplify rather than complicate the manner of doing business. When, however, a book or blank not in the catalogue is required, a full statement as to the necessity that exists therefor should be submitted in every case with the requisition. A copy, if a blank, or a leaf, if a book, should be sent, the latter marked with the number of leaves (not pages) desired, and if paging, indexing, or tagging is required it should be stated and the kind wanted. If special indexing or tagging is desired, the schedule should be given in full.

7. Books and blanks must conform to the following standard sizes of paper or regular divisions thereof:

	Inches.
Cap	14 by 17
Double cap	17 by 28
Demy	16 by 21
Double demy	21 by 32
Medium	18 by 23
Royal	19 by 24
Super royal	20 by 28
Imperial	23 by 31

The above sizes of paper are not only commercial sizes, and therefore the most economical to use, but they are symmetrical in shape and most convenient to handle and file.

8. No record book shall be replaced by a card index or loose-leaf binder system without the written approval of the department.

9. Requisitions for index and guide cards should comply with the requirements of Department Circular No. 62, of 1909, and requisitions for loose-leaf binders should comply with the requirements of Department Circulars Nos. 43 and 53 of 1909.

10. Public Health and Marine-Hospital blank forms (1900 series) will be furnished to customs officers at ports only where there are no marine-hospital officers.

11. Customs officers who are also custodians of public buildings should make requisition for the blank forms required by them in the latter capacity upon the combined catalogue and requisition form No. 7.

12. Articles of stationery must not be included in requisitions for blank forms, nor should blank forms be ordered in stationery requisitions.

13. Requisitions should be properly briefed (the name of chief officer, and not that of deputy or assistant, being given) before transmittal.

14. As requisitions for blank forms when properly prepared explain themselves, it is usually unnecessary that they be accompanied by letters of transmittal.

15. Letters of notification of transmission of forms should be signed, briefed, and promptly returned as receipts to the department.

Digitized by Google

16. Officers who receive blank forms for which they have made no requisition, and for which they receive no letter of transmittal, should promptly notify the department of the fact.

17. The general policy of the department is to secure and to maintain (so far as blank forms are concerned) uniform methods and records throughout the entire customs service, and to avoid the use of special blank forms as far as possible. To this end suggestions are invited from customs officers for the improvement of the stock-catalogue forms, including better titles and subheadings, reducing the size of paper in books and blanks and the number of leaves in books, the discontinuance and consolidation of forms, and such other changes as may be thought desirable.

FRANKLIN MACVEAGH,
Secretary.
